

2020 ASCO Virtual Scientific Program
Sessions, Posters, and Abstracts on Clinician Well-Being and Burnout

- Identifying burnout in young oncologists: The sooner the better
- Results of emotional burnout study among oncologists in Russia
- Burnout among oncology physician assistants \(PAs\) from 2015 to 2019
- Burnout Is Universal: It's Not Just a Problem for American Physicians
- Storytelling as a means of improving community and decreasing burnout in a large academic cancer center
- Building resilient oncologists: A feasibility study of a resiliency curriculum for hematology oncology fellows
- The experience of first-year hematology and oncology fellows after implementing a wellness chief fellow at an academic cancer center
- Reflection rounds to facilitate resilience in hematology/medical oncology fellows
- Stress related to electronic health record \(EHR\) use among oncology trainees: A quality improvement study to optimize information gathering
- Physician burnout: An innovative way to find "sanity out of madness" in the infusion center of a cancer institute
- Is burn-out-syndrome a problem among oncology workers? Incidence and effective tools to achieve improvement