ASCO Oncology Clinician Well-Being Task Force Roadmap

What is Clinician Well-Being?
The Oncology Clinician Well-Being Task Force defines clinician well-being as an integrative concept that characterizes quality of life encompassing an individual's work- and personal health-related environmental, organizational, and psychosocial factors.

Mission
Improving the quality of cancer care by enhancing the well-being of oncology clinicians and sustainability of oncology practices.

Vision
Oncology clinician well-being and practice health are integrated across ASCO’s programs, services, and positions to realize ASCO strategic goals.

5-Year Outcome
Cancer care is delivered in clinical and research environments where patients, clinicians, and practices thrive.

5-Year Goals

1. Engage in Clinician Well-Being Across ASCO Activities
   - Promote education and policy solutions centered on well-being
   - Strengthen connections between ASCO clinical, policy, and education programs
   - Incorporate well-being initiatives within volunteer and professional development programs

2. Broaden and Diversify Oncology Clinician Resources to Support Well-Being
   - Consolidate and improve accessibility of existing ASCO well-being resources
   - Propose and develop innovative well-being resources
   - Address diversity, equity, and inclusion of oncologists throughout ASCO well-being activities

3. Promote Research to Identify Clinician and Practice Needs
   - Highlight areas of research needed to expand understanding of oncology clinician well-being
   - Publish and disseminate information specific to well-being/burnout in oncology
